Ori J. Sorenson and John Dengler Nominated for Mayor

VOLUME IX, NUMBER 264. LA CROSSE, WISCONSIN, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19, 1913. PRICE TWO CENTS

SORENSEN AND DENGLER VICTORS IN THE PRIMARY

Dan MacMillan and W. F. Adams Are Eliminated from the Mayoralty Race

SORENSEN HAS A BIG MAJORITY

Gets 380 Votes More Than Total for Other Four Candidates in the Race

TANGLE OVER MEMBERS OF BOARD

Second Choice Votes to Decide Who Will Be the Four on the Ballot

Mayor John Dengler and former Mayor Ori J. Sorensen again will face each other in political battle at the municipal election April 1. Dan MacMillan, the business men's candidate, and William F. Adams were eliminated from the mayoralty race, while R. C. McCaleb, the social democrat, received but a scattering vote. Judging from the tone of the Adams second choice votes from four or five wards, the second choice will play no part in the naming of the two candidates on the election ticket, as a large majority of Adams' second choices went to Sorensen.

This is the result of the primary election held in La Crosse yesterday. Out of a total vote of 3,932, according to unofficial returns, Dengler received 956, Adams 340, Sorensen 1,806, MacMillan 788 and McCaleb 42. Sorensen received 380 votes more than 1,426, the total vote of the other four candidates.

Board in Tangle

At least two places on the board of public works ticket will probably be decided by the second choice votes, the two highest being John Vollmar, 1,007, and Fred Schnell, 1,193, while Hahn, Hayes, McMullen and Rewey made a close fight for the other two places.

The entire list of city officers now established in office led the opponents by substantial pluralities, the closest rub being given Treasurer George Young by L. E. Lavaque. Young received a plurality of 542.

In comparison with the primary election of 1911 at which a total vote of 2,944 was cast, the primary of yesterday showed some surprising turns. In the primary of 1911 Dengler received 1,244, or 288 votes more than in 1912; Sorensen received 1,268, or 538 less than in 1912; Verchota, the socialists' candidate, received 223, while McCaleb polled about 50. McCaleb's name, however, was not printed on the ticket this year.

Who Gets Losers' Votes?

In the final election in 1911 Dengler received 2,645, Sorensen 2,444 and Verchota 443. The question of where the MacMillan and Adams voters will turn at the election two

OLD ALDERMEN TO HOLD THEIR JOBS

Looks Like Cinch for Most of Them Excepting Roth Who Faces Old Republican Majority

KEMPTER TO SUCCEED MARVIN

Ninth Ward Strong for Him; Kindley Has Fight on Hands and Schneeberger May

Among the aldermanic changes forecasted by the primary is the probable substitution of William F. Strauss for Frank Roth in the Seventh. Mr. Roth has been a capable alderman, but the Seventh is a strong republican ward and Roth slipped in last time as the result of a three cornered fight. Mr. Strauss, a prominent business man, is a republican, and in the present contest polled the normal republican vote, Mr. Roth getting the democratic vote. However Mr. Roth expects to make a strong canvass.

Alderman Tarbox held a good lead over A. C. Worth in the Fourth and is confident of re-election. Mr. Worth said today that he made no fight in the primary, but will put up a lively contest from now on.

Alderman Frank Kohn piled up a big lead over Reinhold Shultz in the Second. William McGaughren led the five cornered fight in the Tenth.

Joseph A. Gardner nosed John Kindley out for supervisor of the Seventeenth and a pretty campaign may result. Schneeberger looks like a winner in the Eighth. Bert Smith and Adam Kroner received fine endorsements in the First and Sixth respectively.

NEW REGIME MAY SUE GUGGENHEIMS

Anti-trust Suit Against the American Smelting Co. Under Consideration by McReynolds

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Final reports completed by the attorneys of the department of justice as a preliminary to the proposed filing of an anti-trust suit against the American Smelting and Refining company, the Guggenheims' New Jersey corporation, will be submitted to Attorney General McReynolds for final disposition within the next few days.

The findings of the investigators, it was learned today, are now in the hands of Assistant Attorney General Fowler, with recommendations that a suit, under the Sherman law, be initiated against the corporation.

The report charges that the corporation, through the acquisition of several of its most active competitors has established control of approximately 75 per cent of the business.

It is also alleged that the concern is today in a position to control the price of copper throughout the United States.

GARNISHES FOR WEDDING FEE

LONDON, Ont., March 19.—A form of litigation of a most unusual nature has been caused in the ninth division court. A retired clergyman who resides in the north end of the city, has garnished the wages of a Canadian Pacific railway brakeman for five dollars for fee for wedding performed in October. The defendant says he did not know there was any charge for marrying.

TURKS CLAIM VICTORY

VIENNA, March 19.—The Turks today claimed to have won a decisive victory at Chatalja, according to dispatches from Constantinople. There it was claimed that the Turks took the offensive, attacking the Bulgarians all along the Chatalja lines, and defeated them after a whole day's fighting.

ZEPPELIN 14 WRECKED

KARLSRUHE, March 19.—The Zeppelin 14, the latest military airship to be built, which was accepted by the German government only a week ago, was completely wrecked here this afternoon, while its crew was attempting to make a landing during a terrific windstorm.

ONALASKA POLLS ONLY SMALL VOTE

Two Aldermen and Three Supervisors Are Named at the Primary at Neighboring City

Two aldermen and three supervisors were nominated at the primaries in Onalaska yesterday. The nominations really correspond to elections, as none of the men has any opposition.

Two aldermen retired from the board this year, Ellsworth Johnson, of the Second ward, and Chas. Barber, of the Third ward. In the Second, Walter Berg was nominated to succeed Mr. Johnson, and in the Third, Joseph Adams will succeed Mr. Barber.

Three supervisors were nominated. In the First and Third wards, James Moore and Lemuel Cox, respectively, were nominated. In the Second ward William Kenyon, the present incumbent, was defeated by Abel Moore.

The election was quiet, and owing to the lack of opposition in most of the cases, there was but a small vote polled.

BRYAN APPROVES DECISION

LINCOLN, Neb., March 19.—Secretary of State Bryan predicts that the friendship of the Chinese people toward America will be fostered and furthered by President Wilson's decision that the national administration shall take no part in floating of a Chinese loan. Secretary Bryan returned to Lincoln, his home city, today to be the guest of honor at the annual banquet given by the Bryan club, tonight, and to celebrate at his home his fifty-third birthday.

DENY MEXICAN CRUISE.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Reports that rebel activity in Guayamas, Mexico, demanded dispatch there of the cruiser California, now at San Francisco, were denied today at the navy department. The California has been ordered to San Diego, not Mexico, officials declare.

RUNAWAY BOY DIES.

CHICAGO, March 19.—Mike Caro, aged 12, who fell while attempting to escape from a training school, by climbing down a rope made of bed-clothing, died at a hospital today.

DOLLAR DIPLOMACY NOT WILSON POLICY

New Administration Will Not Guarantee Loans to South America by U. S. Bankers

OPEN DOOR TO BE UNIVERSAL

Will Not Allow American Financiers to Collect Exorbitant Rates Through Government

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Definite announcement that this government will adopt a similar financial policy in South America to that indicated by the note on the Chinese loan, forecasted exclusively by the United Press yesterday, is expected from the Wilson administration in the near future. It is accepted everywhere that "dollar diplomacy" is doomed. Bankers who want to "trade on the necessities of the small South and Central American countries, charging exorbitant interest, and then depending on the American marines to seize the customs houses and recover their cash," are to be put out of business entirely by the Wilson position.

The open door is to be the universal trade agreement for the next four years. The state department promises to do its best to extend American trade everywhere, but the guaranteeing and collection of loans and bad debts, is no longer to be part of its duties.

It is also expected that the American collectors of customs duties in a number of Central and South American republics will be recalled and their work turned over to the governments that are responsible.

There are a number of proposed loans pending at the present time, notably the Honduran proposition, which was to have been financed by interests close to J. P. Morgan & Company. Whether these loans will now be made is problematical, but if they are, it will have to be on the security offered by the countries involved and not on any promises made by this government.

CANNON DODGES FEAST.

DANVILLE, Ill., March 19.—"I don't want any more banquets. I've been banqueted near unto a cadaver by my friends at Washington."

This was former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon's explanation for stopping home last night and surprising his friends. They planned to banquet him on his return and despite his objections today began arranging for a big banquet next week.

NAME CROWN PRINCE CONSTANTINE KING TO SUCCEED FATHER

CATCH SWINDLERS LEAVING COUNTRY

Family Alleged to Have Defrauded Banks of Million Taken on Boat for Honduras

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 19.—With more than half a million dollars in bills and checks in his grips, pockets, and women's hats, Antone Martinez, alias Musica, New York hair merchant, and his four sons and two daughters were jailed here today charged with swindles amounting to more than $1,000,000. They were arrested on a boat about to leave for Honduras.

A detective prevented the two daughters from throwing their hats into the Mississippi river. A search of the hats later disclosed $300,000 in bank notes hidden in the trimmings.

The police announced that they had obtained a confession from one member of the family that they had been guilty through fraudulent invoices of swindling twenty banks in New York, Atlanta, New Orleans, London and Berlin out of more than $1,000,000.

About $400,000 in currency of large denominations was found in the pockets of the five Musicas. As the father and children were being led to police headquarters, the father seized a magazine revolver which his son, Phillip, had in his pocket and attempted to kill himself. He was prevented after a struggle with the detectives.

ROOSEVELT RUNS NAVY

WASHINGTON, March 19.—For the first time since that memorable day in the spring of 1897, when Theodore Roosevelt was acting secretary of the navy and mobolized the Atlantic fleet, another Roosevelt today was dictator of the nation's navy.

In the absence of Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Franklin D. Roosevelt, the new youthful assistant secretary, was today "holding down the lid."

"There's a Roosevelt on the job today," he said with a smile. "You remember what happened the last time a Roosevelt occupied a similar position?"

POTTERY GIRLS STRIKE

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio, March 19.—Seven hundred girls employed in potteries at Wellsville, Chester and Newell, struck today, after their wage committee had conferred with the pottery representatives and advised the workers to accept the advances offered by the employers. The National Brotherhood of Affiliated Potters, an organization of the men, has an agreement active until October and will be very unlikely to join the strikers.

EXPECT BIG BATTLE

NACO, Ariz., March 19.—A second battle between Mexican federals and Maderistas is expected to begin hourly at Naco, Sonora, across the international boundary from here. General Ojeda's force of 400 is completely surrounded by Maderistas and the only escape seems to be cut away through the besiegers or retire across the boundary to American soil. Ojeda admitted today that he was in a serious plight, but declared he was ready to fight to the last ditch.

Queen Hurries from Athens to Salonika on Board Russian Warship Today

ATHENS, March 19.—The council of ministers today formally declared the former crown prince Constantine, Duke of Sparta, to be King Constantine I of Greece, succeeding his father, King George I, assassinated by a man of feeble mind late yesterday, as he walked through the streets of Salonika which he entered as a conqueror three months ago. While the council of ministers were in solemn session, preparing a proclamation which ascribed the assassination of King George to the act of a mad man, the grief-stricken Dowager Queen Olga was hurrying to Salonika aboard a Russian warship, bemoaning that she had left the king alone in the conquered city a few days ago.

Part of Big Plot?

ATHENS, March 19—Searching inquiry was set afoot today by the Greek government to determine if possible whether S. Aleke Schinas was simply an unbalanced anarchist, acting alone, when he shot down King George in a Salonika street yesterday, or whether he was a crafty agent of an organized anarchist band. A rendezvous of anarchists exists at Volo, and the ministry heard a report that the plot to kill King George was hatched there.

It was rumored here that the assassination of the king was but the beginning of an anarchist project to murder the rulers of all the Balkans states. Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria, King Nicholas of Montenegro, and King Peter of Servia, also were said to be marked. Information of this was forthcoming, though, and nothing developed in Salonika to indicate that the Turks had anything to do with the killing of the Greek king.

Athens in Mourning

The Hellenic capitol was the scene of deepest gloom and mourning today. Flags were at half-mast, buildings were draped in black and government departments were closed. Theaters closed their doors last night and all business is at a standstill.

The new King Constantine always has been popular and respected. The Greeks have great confidence in his ability and sagacity, and since the army of which he was the active head took Janina, Constantine has been a popular idol.

The obsequies of King George will be imposing. He was related to every reigning family in Europe, and every nation will be represented at the funeral. Princes, dukes and grand dukes, will represent their sovereigns and a brilliant assemblage will be here.

New King Arrives

SALONIKA, March 19.—King Constantine I of Greece was received with all homage due a monarch by the people of Salonika when he arrived here today from Janina to direct the removal to Athens of the body of his father, King George, who fell late yesterday at the hands of an assassin, Aleke Schinas.

The king of a day sobbed audibly as he embraced his younger brother, Prince Nicholas, and warmly wrung the hand of Lieutenant-Colonel Francoudis, the equerry who tried to save King George's life by capturing the assassin before he could make a second shot.

Wait for Queen

King Constantine immediately assumed command of the Greek troops holding Salonika and then gave orders concerning the preparation for

Saw Humor in Situation.

Joseph Jefferson, wrote Mary Shaw in the Century, was once introduced at a club by a blundering chairman as "Mr. Washington Irving—I—I—mean—Mr. Rip Van Winkle—I—I—m—mean Mr. Joseph Jefferson." Mr. Jefferson, being somewhat deaf, did not hear this, and misunderstood the prolonged laughter that greeted him as he rose. On its real cause being later explained to him, he was relieved, and exclaimed, "Good heavens! I don't wonder they roared at that tripping down the scale."

Catch Phrase for the Drunkard.

An excellent catch phrase for the suspected drunkard comes from a teetotaler on Stratford-on-Avon. "He put his hands into his British breeches pocket." You may find that sentence in "Jane Eyre." But the most strenuous abstainer would find it a little difficult of pronunciation. — London Chronicle

FACE ALL RED SPOTS AND BLISTERS

632 N. 5th St., Terre Haute, Ind.— "My little nephew, a boy of four years, had a breaking out on his face. It was little red spots at first then he would rub and scratch and water blisters would form and wherever the water would run another would come until his face was covered with them. He would cry and fret. His mother got some medicine, but it did not do any good. He would scream and cry and say it hurt. We hardly knew him, his little face was all red spots and blisters. So I begged him to let me put some Cuticura Ointment on them. The next morning I made a strong soap suds with Cuticura Soap and washed his face in the warm suds. The little blisters burst by pressing the cloth on them. After I had his face washed, I put the Cuticura Ointment on and in a short time his little face was all red and dry. I kept using the Cuticura Soap and putting on the Cuticura Ointment and his face got well and it did not leave a scar. He was entirely cured in about one week and a half." (Signed) Mrs. Arthur Haworth, Jan. 10, 1912.

A single cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient when all else has failed. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Daddy's Bedtime Story — How Johnny Doctored His Rocking Horse

THERE was a little quiet in the room. Jack and Evelyn had been romping about playing horse. When daddy said he was ready to tell them a story they settled down.

"I'm going to tell you about Johnny Juniper and his horse. It was a wooden rocking horse that swung on a steel spring.

"One day Johnny Juniper caught a cold. They put him to bed and gave him medicine to swallow. They put plasters on his chest and tied cloths wet in liniment around his little throat. When he complained of a headache his mother put medicine on his little head.

"Yes, Johnny Juniper was very sick, and it was several days before he got well. When he was able to be about the house and play the first toy that he looked at was his horse.

"'Poor ol' horsie!' he said. 'Was he lonesome when Johnny was sick?'

"Of course the horse couldn't answer him, but when Johnny climbed on his back and started to ride the spring began to squeak.

"'Guess horsie got sore froat,' murmured Johnny. He went upstairs and got a rag. Then he remembered a brown bottle he had seen standing in the cellar.

"'Nice medicine for horsie's froat,' he muttered. He trotted down to the cellar and poured some of the stuff in the bottle on the rag.

"'Medicine pretty smelly,' Johnny sniffed, looking at the rag. It was turpentine. Turpentine always does smell strong.

"Well, Johnny tied a rag wet with the turpentine around the horse's throat. Then he got on his back again. The spring squeaked, and Johnny got down.

"'Put more medicine on poor ol' horsie!' Johnny exclaimed. Then he went and got more rags—plenty of them—and when he had wet these in turpentine tied them around the horse's legs.

"'Put poor ol' Dobbin to bed,' Johnny added. He threw a blanket over the horse.

"The next day Johnny's mother wondered why the rocking horse was covered. She threw off the blanket, and then she saw the cloths on Dobbin's neck and legs. 'Mercy, turpentine!' she cried, and she pulled them off.

"Wherever he had put the rags the paint was off.

"'Whatever made you do it?' asked Johnny's mother.

"'Poor horsie's sick. Give him medicine make him well,' the little boy explained. Johnny rocked the horse to show her how Dobbin groaned.

"'Dear, dear!' Johnny's mother said. 'A little oil on the spring was all the horse needed, but your medicine has spoiled his looks.'"

AS TO STATE OWNERSHIP

Paul Leroy-Beaulieu contributes an article to the March number of the North American Review that is of great interest to those who advocate the state ownership and management of railways. The brilliant Frenchman makes the unqualified statement that from the point of view of pure political economy there can be no question that state ownership is an evil. "Nor," he adds, "is the conclusion less positive when the matter is considered from a sociological, a political or a financial point of view."

M. Leroy-Beaulieu bases his conclusions partly on what has occurred since the French government took over the Western railway. In order to extend this system the government during the last year has been obliged to borrow 300,000,000 francs, and will be obliged to borrow much more. These loans, he fears, will have a bad effect upon French credit, which heretofore has always been so high. The writer adds:

"I affirm that state ownership and operation of public utilities, that municipalization, that the participation of the departments or public authorities of any kind is in disgrace in France, the final blow to the system having been given by the lamentable failure still in progress, of the Western Railway management. And I may add that a careful study of the nature and working of the modern state and public bodies today, especially in wholly democratic countries, shows that reasons of the highest theoretical gravity add their weight to those of practical kind in favor of the rejection of the idea of state operation of public utilities of any sort.

"But my contradictors may point to Germany, and especially to Prussia, as a proof that the state can operate creditably great railway systems. My reply is that Germany and Prussia are in no respects democratic countries; that Prussia is not even a parliamentary one, subject to electoral servitude and to the instability of elective administrations."

Of course the answer to this is that financial burdens assumed by the government in connection with railroad operation, which are paid by the people as taxpayers, are many times offset by the burdens due to watered stock, to excessive rates and to collusion between big shippers and railroads, which the people pay as travelers and shippers. It is probable that the best place to study government ownership is in those countries where the policy is most highly developed and successful rather than where it is confessedly a failure through mismanagement. Nor is it likely that a Latin people can show us the way industrial achievements of the highest order.

THE WAY THEY'LL TOG UP SUNDAY

The 1913 woman will have to toss overboard all switches, rats and puffs and plaster her tresses flat down on the head in order to wear the new things in spring millinery becomingly.

The new spring "lid" is to be one of small dimension. It will be almost tiny, infinitesimal in comparison to the recent vogues, destined, says one fashion writer, "to overtop the general decorations lightly and jauntily." From those who have an inkling of the shapes that will be prevalent, a merry, lilting laugh of satisfaction issues.

This spring my lady can be as chic as she chooses. The nobbish little bonnets will lend a petite and dainty effect to any figure that has not outgrown the limits of consistent averages. They will perk up on the feminine head in a nifty way that will call for much admiring comment from the side lines.

In order to wear them cleverly, so that they will produce the proper effect, she must wear her hair very closely atop, but loosely about the brow and ears. Thus a composite effect is attained.

Bright and flaming shades, ostentatious and flamboyant, will be used in the color schemes of the bonnets. Although the American shades will continue quite popular, the newest shade will be the Bulgarian, which is the old burnt orange of former years hauled out into the open and dubbed anew.

Another favorite shade for spring will be taupe, a wonderfully peculiar shade of peacock green with oriental blue shimmers coursing through as occasion demands. The colors will come in fancy bandings, ribbons and tiny berries, which will be worn in patches wherever so desired.

A number of the well dressed women will wear tams and soft crowned hats. Milliners claim that such styles will be exceedingly prevalent.

The new styles will meet with distinct favor, and many of the milliners have already received assurances from various sources that the patronage will be exceptionally heavy. The styles are also welcomed with gleeful rubbing of the hand on the part of the hair dressers in the city, as they are able to see an area of new and entirely different coiffures, which they alone will be capable of constructing. All this upon authority and with due attention to technical language as employed by our most approved fashion writers.

CLAIMING THE LION'S SHARE

When the coal operators distributed $4,000,000 in increased wages among their men last spring they presented themselves with an extra profit of $13,450,000. In other words, for every additional dollar given employes the employers got more than three. All of it came from the public. These facts now are given official authority through being included in the report made to the house of representatives.

No wonder there is industrial unrest in this country. Labor sees capital rolling up millions in profits on the basis of labor's work; then when meager wages are made more nearly adequate the big corporations, instead of being content with a slightly smaller profit, proceed to take the increase from the public and thus, indirectly, from labor itself. In this case instead of making the increase exactly sufficient to pay the raise in wages the coal magnates made it more than four times what is necessary, giving labor one share of the returns and keeping three for itself.

The whole basis for the rebellion of labor, backed by the thinking public, against present conditions is that capital gets too large a share of the wealth we all create. Not enough of the profit is distributed to labor in the form of wages nor to the people as a whole in the form of lowered prices.

The important part that capital plays in industry cannot be minimized. It is quite true that we hardly could get along without it. But on the other hand we certainly could not do without labor. Labor is the foundation of the whole structure. It is only now that the world has come to recognize this fundamental fact clearly. Out of this recognition has come a demand that capital cease demanding the lion's share of every betterment and distribute more of its profits both to labor and to the public.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

I Remember

I remember, I remember,
The coal I used to throw
Into my hungry furnace
To make the blamed thing go.

I remember, I remember,
The snow piled up in banks
Which I was wont to shovel
And get no sort of thanks.

I remember, I remember,
How I, the verdant chump,
Climbed out of bed each morning
To thaw the kitchen pump.

I remember, I remember,
The plumbers used to stay
For hours around our shanty
To mend the pipes each day.

I remember, I remember,
These things all cling to me,
Spring weather we're now having
Spits me, yes, to a T.

Friend Better Than Husband

A certain young woman who does much charitable work recently called on a sick woman and incidentally inquired with a view to further relief, as to her family.

"Is your husband kind to you?" she wanted to know.

"Oh, yes, indeed, miss," was the assuring response; "he is kind—very kind, indeed; you might say that he more like a friend than a husband."—Metropolitan Magazine.

A Tight Place

"When Colonel Lee," he said, "was getting up a subscription for a monument to the Pater Patriae, he called on a certain rich man.

"But the rich man refused to subscribe.

"'No, sir,' said he, 'I see no necessity for a monument to Washington. His fame is undying, sir. He is enshrined in the hearts of all his countrymen.'

"'Is he enshrined in your heart?' asked Colonel Lee.

"'He is, sir.'

"'Then all I have to say,' replied the colonel, 'is that he is in a tight place.'"

No Hands Wanted

A woman visiting a butcher shop, called for a piece of beef. The butcher, in weighing it had his hand on the scales. The lady picking up a sharp knife and handing it to the bitcher, remarked:

"I haven't any use for it, but you may cut it off, and I'll take it along, anyhow."

"Cut it off? Cut what off?" asked the butcher.

"Your hand; you weighed it."—National Monthly.

Mr. Burbank Has a New Job

Physically speaking, Ollie James, the new senator from Kentucky, weighs close to 300 pounds, and in a political sense he tips the scales at 1,500 tons. His last achievement was to give Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, a new and difficult job.

Last summer James toured California, and one day he lunched with Burbank, who seemed intensely interested in the vast amount of food the big Kentuckian stowed away and his manner of doing the stowing. Immediately after the lunch, the scientist made a quack dash back to his experimental station.

"Why are you in such a hurry, Luther?" asked one of the party.

"I want to rush back," he responded seriously, "and see if I can't propagate a square-shaped pea that won't roll off Ollie's knife."—Popular Magazine.

A Reasonable Plea For The Stomach

If Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do its Work?

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach. Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing, but these natural elements necessary to digestion and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives.

Stuart Co., 86 Clerkenwell Road, London, E. C., and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral poisons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of opinion that they are admirably adaptable for the purpose for which they are intended. (Signed)

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their composition is commonly known among physicians. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dysentery and kindred diseases originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of foods, because they are thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and powerful remedy. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

The Easiest Way Out

A Louisville negro was caught with a number of hides in his possession, for which he could not reasonably account, and was brought into court charged with stealing.

"Guilty or not guilty?" thundered the judge.

"Not guilty," emphatically responded the negro.

"Then how do you account for the fact that you were in possession of two $5 bills when you were arrested, although you are known to have been unemployed for a year?" demanded his honor.

"Jes' let me relate the circumstances, Mr. Jedge—"

"And that three hides, of which you claim to know nothing, were found hidden in your cellar?"

"I dunno, jedge, but—"

"And that you were seen coming out of the tannery with three more?"

The negro scratched his head in silence for a minute, then blurted out:

"Lookey here, Mr. Jedge, if you is gwine to git so troublesome an' so 'quisitive 'bout this little matter, I's jest pintedly gwine ter take back what I said 'bout not guilty an' make it guilty."—National Monthly.

"They scuttle a house at the top, don't they?"

"Yes, my boy."

"And they scuttle a boat at the bottom, do they not?"

"Why—yes."

"Well, where would they start to scuttle a houseboat, pop?"—Yonkers Statesman.

"That will do, Mr. Langham. Thank you," said Moxlow at last.

North felt sure he would be the next witness, and he was not mistaken. Moxlow's examination, however, was along lines quite different from those he had anticipated. The prosecuting attorney's questions wholly concerned themselves with the sale of the gas bonds to McBride; each detail of that transaction was gone into, but a very positive sense of relief had come to North. This was not what he had expected and dreaded, and he answered Moxlow's queries frankly, eagerly, for where his relations with the old merchant were under discussion he had nothing to hide. Finally Moxlow turned from him with a characteristic gesture.

"That's all," he said.

Again his glance wandered over the room. It became fixed on a janitor of the building in which he grayish middle-aged man seated at Gilmore's elbow.

"Thomas Nelson," he called.

This instantly revived North's apprehensions. Nelson was the janitor of the building in which he had roomed. He asked himself what could be Moxlow's purpose in examining him.

There was just one thing North feared, and that—the bringing of Evelyn Langham's name into the case. How this could happen he did not see, but the law dug its own channels and sometimes they went far enough afield. While this was passing through his mind, Nelson was sworn and Moxlow began his examination.

Mr. Nelson was in charge of the building on the corner of Main Street and the Square. He referred to the brick building on the southeast corner? The witness answered in the affirmative, and Moxlow's next question brought out the fact that for some weeks the building had had only two tenants: John North and Andrew Gilmore.

What was the exact nature of his duties? The witness could hardly say; he was something of a carpenter for one thing, and at the present time was making certain repairs in the vacant store-room on the ground floor. Did he take care of the entrance and the two halls? Yes. Had he anything to do with the rooms of the two tenants on the first floor? Yes. What?

Sometimes he swept and dusted them and he was supposed to look after the fires. He carried up the coal, Moxlow suggested? Yes. He carried out the ashes Again yes. Moxlow paused for a moment. Was he the only person who ever carried out the ashes? Yes. What did he do with the ashes? He emptied them into a barrel that stood in the yard back of the building. And what became of them then? Whenever necessary, the barrel was carted away and emptied. How long did it usually take to fill the barrel? At this season of the year one or two weeks. When was it emptied last? A week ago, perhaps, the witness was not quite sure about the day, but it was either Monday or Tuesday of the preceding week. And how often did the ashes from the fireplaces in Mr. North's and Mr. Gilmore's rooms find their way into the barrel? Every morning he cleaned out the grates the first thing, and usually before Mr. North or Mr. Gilmore were up.

Again Moxlow paused and glanced over the room. He must have been aware that to his eager audience the connection between Mr. North's and Mr. Gilmore's fireplaces and the McBride murder, was anything but clear.

"Did you empty the ashes from the fireplaces in the apartments occupied by Mr. North and Mr. Gilmore on Friday morning?" he asked.

"Yes; that is, I took up the ashes in Mr. North's rooms."

"But not in Mr. Gilmore's?"

"No, sir, I didn't go into his rooms Friday morning."

"Why was that—was there any reason for it?"

"Yes, I knew that Mr. Gilmore's rooms had not been occupied on Thursday night; that was the night of the murder, and he was at McBride's house," explained the witness.

"But you emptied the grate in Mr. North's rooms?"

"Yes, sir."

"And disposed of the ashes in the usual way?"

"Yes, sir."

"In the barrel in the yard back of the building?"

"Yes sir."

"Did you notice anything peculiar about the ashes from Mr. North's rooms on Friday morning?"

The witness looked puzzled.

"Oh, yes, but then he was going away."

"That will do—you are excused," interposed Moxlow quickly.

The sheriff was next sworn. Without interruption from Moxlow he told his story. He had made a thorough search of the ash barrel described by the witness Thomas Nelson, and had come upon a number of charred fragments of paper.

"We think these may be of interest in the coroner's jury," said Moxlow quietly.

He drew a small pasteboard box from an inner pocket of his coat and carefully arranged its contents on the table before him. In all there were half a dozen scraps of charred or torn paper displayed; one or two of these fragments were bits of envelopes in which either a part or all of the name will still decipherable. North, from where he sat, was able to recognize a number of these as letters which he had intended to destroy that last night in his rooms; but the refuse from his grate and the McBride murder still seemed poles apart; he could imagine no possible connection.

The president of Mount Hope's first national bank was the next witness called. He was asked by Moxlow to examine a Mount Hope Gas Company bond, and then the prosecuting attorney placed in his hands a triangular piece of paper which he selected from among the other fragments on the table.

"Mr. Harden, will you kindly tell the jury of what, in your opinion, that bit of paper in your hand was once a part?" said Moxlow.

Very deliberately the banker put on his glasses, and then with equal deliberation began a careful examination of the scrap of paper.

"Well?" said Moxlow.

"A second, please!" said the banker.

But the seconds grew into minutes before he was ready to risk an opinion.

Revelation, 7, 14.

"These are they which come out of great tribulation."

The gravestone of David Livingstone, in the Abbey, is marked, "Missionary, Traveler, and Philanthropist." We do not take so much account of the journey as the end. The words given will do for the conclusion. The Scripture tells the whole story. Men like Livingstone have all come up out of great tribulation. The glory of the ending covers the struggle of the going.

Her Appetite Hadn't Suffered.

"Do you think, Miss Clara," he asked, with infinite tenderness in his voice, as he handed her the bill of fare, "that one's appetite is affected when one is in love?" "I haven't a doubt of it," she replied, scanning the bill of fare; and then she turned to the waiter and said: "Roast beef, please, with plenty of fat, and mashed potatoes, parsnips, and boiled onions."

SEE WILSON ON TARIFF REFORM

Congressional Leaders Outline to President Features of Proposed New Duties

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The proposed new tariff reform bill was brought squarely to the attention of President Wilson today. Senator Simmons, chairman of the senate finance committee and representative A. Mitchell Palmer of the house ways and means committee, both saw the president in his private office. They outlined to him the principal feature of the bill as already agreed to.

President Wilson told the party leaders to have the ways so thoroughly greased that when the special session of congress assembles next month, there will be smooth going and the friction so marked at former sessions, eliminated this time.

Free sugar, lumber, meats and farm machinery, a fifteen per cent duty on raw wool, drastic reductions in steel duties and a minimum duty on citrus fruits are reported to be the principal features of the tentative tariff bill. The draft is ready to submit to the democratic caucuse of the house to be called shortly before April 7.

President Wilson will not include in his message to the coming extraordinary session of congress a clause recommending legislation for a constitutional amendment granting votes for women.

This became definitely certain today and also that the president will ignore requests that he recommend legislation for currency reform and many other issues. His single recommendation will be for expedition of tariff revision legislation.

STOMACH SICK, SOUR, UPSET AND FULL OF GAS? PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

In five minutes! Time it! All Indigestion, Heartburn and Dyspepsia gone and your stomach feels fine.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is astonishing. Please don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach it's so unnecessary.

On Wisconsin Side of the Mississippi River Opposite Village of Dakota

Ernest Horner, a member of the La Crosse County Hunting and Fishing club, has presented the club with four acres of land, located one and one-half miles north of Dakota, Minn., on the Wisconsin side of the Mississippi river.

The club at its next meeting will discuss the erection of a large cottage, which can be used by the members the year round. The location of this ground is a favorite spot among fishermen and hunters of La Crosse. It is said to be one of the best duck hunting grounds in the state.

On the banks of the river in the vicinity of this plot are some excellent bass dams and pike bars.

The joint legislative committee from Wisconsin and Minnesota will meet in La Crosse Friday and Saturday of this week. It is desired that all members of the La Crosse club be present, to present their individual reasons for the proposed legislation.

Nails Protect Piling.

Some of the piles in use in Amsterdam are 300 to 400 years old. That part which is not in the ground is often bored by a pile worm near the surface, but is preserved by driving in nails with very large heads, so as to give the pile an iron coating. This coating is then transformed by the water into a layer of rust, which protects the wood from the pile worm. This process must be repeated every fifteen years.

CALL GRAND JURY TO PROBE ARSON

Nine Members of Alleged Million Dollar Ring Arrested and Warrants Out for 18 More

CHICAGO, March 19.—A special grand jury to investigate the operations of the million dollar "arson trust" that centered in Chicago, was ordered called today by Judge Burke. The jurors will meet March 26 to consider charges of arson and arson with intent to defraud made against forty Chicago merchants and fire insurance men.

Nine alleged members of the "arson combine" have been arrested and detectives armed with warrants today hunted for 18 more, all merchants. In nearly every instance more than one warrant has been issued for each man. Bond in each case was fixed at $40,000 for each separate charge, making the total bail almost prohibitory. All the nine men under arrest are in jail.

NEW YORK, March 19.—When the hearing before the Erdman act arbitration board of the differences between the eastern railroads and their firemen was resumed today at the Waldorf, W. J. Lauck, the statistician employed by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, returned to the stand for cross-examination.

Lauck introduced a set of figures yesterday tending to show that increased profits of the roads had meant much increased work for the firemen for which they received no compensation in the way of larger wages. Elisha Lee, representing the railroad managers, attacked some of Lauck's findings and was expected to continue the railroads' examination of the figures today.

ABSCONDER SUICIDES

CHICAGO, March 19.—Attempts were made today to identify as Joseph H. Jordan, absconding San Francisco attorney, a young man who killed himself yesterday on a Sante Fe train. Jordan staged a "fake" suicide before disappearing from San Francisco. He left indications that he had been drowned. It was discovered he was involved in a number of fraudulent checks amounting to $10,000 and the death was doubted.

CAN'T BE GOOD WITHOUT CORSET

Clubwoman Tells Sisters Reason Bridewell Is Bad Is Because Stays Are Not Allowed

CHICAGO, March 19. — Low wages, dance halls and intoxicants all contribute to the downfall of women, but—

Mrs. Nina S. Jones, chairman of the women's reformatory committee of the Illinois Woman's Democratic league, made this emphatic announcement before members of the league who gathered at the Congress hotel. "Some of you women should visit the Bridewell," said Mrs. Jones. "I have and I never knew before that women could have such awful figures.

"When a woman loses her waistline she loses her self-respect. One reason why women inmates of our jails are so hard to reclaim is that they are not allowed to wear corsets. Give them their stays and pretty things to wear and they'll make better wives for average men than some of the girls our sons meet in society."

Some fellows are so busy hustling that they haven't time to do anything else.

SOCIETY

SHOWER FOR MISS REHFUSS

Miss Mabel Rodemyer entertained a number of young ladies Monday evening in honor of Miss Florence Rehfuss who is to be married shortly.

The rooms were decorated in green, shamrocks being especially in evidence in honor of the Irish patron saint. Cupids and hearts were also used in the decorations.

The young ladies, all intimate friends of Miss Rehfuss, presented her with several pairs of curtains to be used in the furnishing of the new home, and the evening was pleasantly spent in hemming the curtains, after which music was the order of the evening. Refreshments were later served.

There have been brought to light an astonishing number of forms of fish, and especially of prawns of a brilliantly red color, living in the ocean at a depth of 3,000 feet. But, astonishing as it may seem, these brilliantly colored fish and prawns, instead of being conspicuous in the water at that depth, are nearly invisible, when almost any other color could be easily seen.

Direct Evidence

For several months we have been telling you what Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of and the ailments it has been curing for more than a third of a century. Below we give a letter telling particulars of one of the many cures it has effected, and we leave it for you to say how many and how strong adjectives we might truthfully use in introducing a letter of this character. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

"208 Upper Front St.,
"Exeter, N. H., May 27, 1912.
"Gentlemen:—It is with the sincere purpose of benefiting others I write what Hood's Sarsaparilla did for me.
"On getting up one morning I found what seemed to be a mosquito bite on the calf of my right leg. Soon the eruption grew larger and continued day after day, becoming more and more troublesome. The physician advised poulticing, and I soon found I had a running sore. It ate steadily into the flesh, discharged freely, and grew worse. Another physician told me to use a rubber bandage, but the sore grew worse until
There Was Not a Spot of Healthy Skin as Large as a 10ct. Piece Between My Knee and Ankle.
My leg was now a dreadful sight. There were places large and deep enough to hold an egg. I was told the leg must be amputated. The specialist said he had seen many bad sores, but none equal to mine.
"One day a neighbor, Mrs. Buckley, spoke of the value of Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, and I said 'I don't think such a simple thing as Hood's Sarsaparilla would do me any good.' But my husband joined in urging me to try Hood's, and as he bought a bottle, I thought I might as well take it. Before I finished that first bottle, I suffered less pain and could see the edges of the sore beginning to heal. As I kept on with the medicine, new flesh formed, the raw surface diminished, and after using ten bottles the Sore Was Completely Healed and My General Health Perfect.
I am able to work every day, weigh 175 pounds, my leg never gives me any trouble, and I use it the same as the other. I believe it my duty to tell what Hood's Sarsaparilla did for me, and I praise it to all my friends." Mrs. Josephine Sargent.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Having cured such a tenacious case of scrofulous impurity as that described above,—and it has cured many other cases,—is certainly to be relied upon for all troubles caused or promoted by impure or low state of the blood.

CITY IS DONNING ITS EASTER DUDS

La Crosse is donning its "glad rags" for Easter. The city streets, under the brushes of Street Commissioner Geo. Falk's band of whitewings, are emerging from their winter's overlay of dirt. The shining process was begun this morning on the downtown streets, and will be kept up until all the paved streets in the city have been manicured. Sprinkling carts have not yet appeared, but it is said they are becoming restless in their places of winter hibernation, and will shortly burst forth like miniature Niagaras.

BRIDGE DAMAGED AS ICE GOES OUT

Floes Break Up This Morning and Batter Protection Pier and Sheer-boom Timbers

The protection pier and sheer boom of the wagon bridge were damaged to a considerable extent this morning when the ice that has blocked the river above the bridge since last fall suddenly broke loose and started down stream. The ice started to go out between 10 and 11 this morning.

The greatest damage was done to the protection pier, because of its exposed position in the middle of the river. Its nose, pointing up stream, was badly battered and crushed out of shape by the heavy floes. Several timbers were broken despite the iron sheathing. The sheer boom along the levee also suffered from the ice.

River experts predict that the river will be free of ice tomorrow. Although ice is still coming down, proving that it is not all clear up stream, the amount in the river is considerably less this afternoon than it was this morning.

GIRL'S FATHER AIDS ELOPING LOVERS

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 19.—The usual order of elopement was reversed when Floyd Sparrow, 21, came to St. Paul today to marry Faye Woodbury, 16, to whom his parents in De Kalb, Ill., objected. The young Lochinvar was aided in his runaway courtship by the father of his betrothed, who accompanied the fleeing couple and gave his consent to the marriage of his daughter at the license clerk's office today. The father said he thought his daughter was old enough to know her choice of a husband. He said they came to be married away from the home town so as to avoid a ruction between the families, and that the wedding would be kept a secret in De Kalb until the girl became older.

STEEL STRIKERS PARADE

PITTSBURG, March 19.—The Oliver steel strikers, whose parade on Monday caused a declaration by mill officials today that the marchers will not again be employed at the plant, this afternoon marched through the down town streets and out past the big mill for a second time. Banners bearing such signs as "Twelve hours for sixty cents," "Lincoln freed the black slaves; help free Oliver's white slaves," were carried by the paraders.

About half the office force of the mill was laid off today. Thirty men employed in the ten-inch bar mill walked out this morning, leaving about seventy employes at work in the big plant. There were a few mix-ups between pickets and mill officers, but no serious outbreaks.

weeks from now is the all absorbing topic of discussion in political circles today. The general concensus of opinion seems to give the Adams votes to Sorensen and the MacMillan support to Dengler, but there are some who argue that the Adams followers will turn to Dengler because of the fact that the MacMillan and Adams platforms were similar.

The fact that the Sorensen men organized before the primaries and carried on an active campaign while the Dengler supporters contented themselves with allowing events to take their own course, is being pointed to today as an indication that the Sorensen and Dengler votes at the primary are not an indication of their comparative strength. They further assert that when the issue between Dengler and Sorensen is fought out at the election April 1 with a full vote of the city the results will show that nearly all of Sorensen's strength was shown at the primaries.

Sorensen Men Claim Increase

The Sorensen supporters on the other hand dwell upon the gain their candidate made over the primary vote of 1911 and contend that this gain will be still further increased at the election this year. In any event all sides concede that it will be a pretty race.

In spite of the fact that the business men failed to show their anticipated strength in the wards in the central and eastern parts of the city, Dan MacMillan was undoubtedly retired from the contest by the Trades and Labor council resolution which came as a roorback the day before the election, and which Mr. MacMillan was given no opportunity to answer.

GOES 2,000 MILES TO BE IMMERSED

LYNN, Mass., March 19.—After traveling 2,000 miles across the continent to answer a "call from heaven to undergo the triple immersion," Miss Catherine L. Cragon of Colorado Springs, and Elder Adoniram J. Rawson of this city stood neck deep in the icy waters of Flax pond and performed the rites that made her a minister in the Apostolic faith. After three 'duckings" they joined 12 other members of the faith on the bank, and with dripping clothes sang hymns for half an hour. Shivering spectators, with coats buttoned tight, watched with wonder and some merriment.

The house today passed, without a dissenting vote the bill offered by the claims committee to appropriate $1,000 to have Clemens treated and the senate is expected to act promptly.

SERUM CURES A GIRL

PHYSICIAN PRONOUNCES CANADIAN GIRL ON ROAD TO HEALTH AFTER EIGHT DAYS' TREATMENT

MONTREAL, March 19.—What the French Canadian residents of this city are already calling "the new miracle" was given its first demonstration today when Marie Dubois, 20 years old, one of Dr. Friedmann's first tubercular patients, treated eight days ago, was pronounced on the road to permanent recovery by her own regular physician, Dr. Eithier.

Miss Dubois was a sufferer from tuberculous glands. So far advanced was the disease at the time of her treatment by Dr. Friedmann that she lay helpless in bed unable to move, or to open her mouth for food without assistance. Today she was walking around the house with the swelling of the glands and all pain gone.

EUROPE AROUSED BY FRENCH STEP

PARIS, March 19.—Theophile Delcasse, the new French ambassador to St. Petersburg, left Paris for Russia today. Because of the strained situation throughout Eupope the appointment of Delcasse to Russia is viewed with concern by the triple alliance. It is generally believed that the ambassadorship under which Delcasse is accredited to Russia is only a cloak and that the former foreign minister is going to France's powerful ally on a secret mission. The appointment of Delcasse to this, the most important of all French diplomatic posts, was announced on President Poincare's inauguration day. Germany accepted it as a direct slap at her, as Delcasse, while foreign minister, was accused by Germany with trying to encircle that nation by forming alliances with her neighbors.

TO INVESTIGATE MORALS OF COEDS

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 19.—Morals of girl students of the University of Illinois will be the subject of a sweeping probe to be conducted by the next grand jury in Champaign county, State's Attorney Louis Busch announced today.

The investigation grows out of statements said to have been made by Mrs. A. J. Todd, wife of a professor at the university. Charges have been made that extravagant display of finery on the part of coeds coming from wealthy homes has tempted and resulted in the ruin of less fortunate girls coming from poorer families.

NORMAL TO HOLD PENTATHLON MEET

Plan Contest of Five Events to Pick Best All-round Athlete in the School

With the close of the basketball season attention at the normal school is being drawn to spring athletics, baseball and track work. Several days ago the physical training department decided to provide something new in the line of physical exercise and to that end Coach Carter will, as soon as weather permits and the field gets dry, inaugurate a series of competitive contests for all-around athletic skill. A punting contest will feature the spring football practice and a banner is to be provided on which will be inscribed the name of the winner and the distance of his kick.

A list of five events to determine the best all-around athlete of the school comprises the high jump, broad jump, hundred yard dash, shot put and discus throw. The normal school has much good material for a worthy track team to represent the institution. Swancutt, the big Kickapoogian, has a record of forty-three feet in the shot put and 110 feet in the discus and can also clear over five feet in the high jump. Lester Griffin, brother of Lee Griffin, former normal star, took five first places in the southern Wisconsin meet last year and promises to be a big point winner for the local school. Josephs and Byers can perform in the middle distance at about fifty-five seconds. Lee Griffin, who is teaching in Ontario, will likely be back at school to continue some college work, so the outlook is very bright and Coach Carter is anticipating a renewed interest in the department of track work this season.

removal to Athens of his father's body. Then the brothers prepared to await the coming of their mother, Dowager Queen Olga, on her way from Athens aboard a Russian warship.

The story of the assassination, as told to King Constantine by Colonel Francoudis was that he and the late king were walking slowly along the street, returning from their daily constitutional when suddenly without warning a shot rang out.

King George staggered and the aide whirled to see Schinas less than two yards away, his pistol raised for another shot. The man had not spoken a word.

Aide Seizes Assassin

Francoudis seized the assassin by the throat and interposed his own body between the man and the king, who by that time had fallen.

Two soldier guards, who by the king's orders, were far in the rear, came up and took possession of Schinas, while King George was rushed to a nearby hospital. He was conscious but did not speak and lived less than half an hour.

Examination showed that the bullet entered the back below the shoulder, touched the heart, and ranged downward, coming out through the abdomen.

The soldiers are bitter in their anger against Aleke Schinas, the assassin, and frequently threats of violence are heard, but so far no attempt has been made to put them into execution. The slayer, closely guarded, was kept out of sight, and the people of the town did not know the place of his confinement.

Crowd Kills Accomplice

An unidentified man, who, because of his proximity to the assassin, was supposed to be an accomplice, was attacked by a mob as Schinas was led away by soldiers and literally torn to pieces.

While the authorities stated that Schinas appeared to be of low mentality, almost feeble-minded, acquaintances of the regicide said that he was a university graduate and highly educated. He returned to Solonika after its occupation by the Greeks, having lived abroad for several years. One report was that Schinas lived for a time in America. A supposed indication of the man's unsound mind was his stoicism and apparent unconcern after the shooting . He displayed no emotion when he shot King George and was placid and nonchalant after his arrest.

Thought Anarchist

"I do not believe in government," was the only answer he made when pressed by officers for some reason for his mad act.

From this declaration it is believed that Schinas is an anarchist. The statement that he was a socialist was not confirmed.

Wilson Sends Condolence

WASHINGTON, March 19.—President Wilson today sent a personal cablegram of condolence to Queen Olga of Greece. He said:

"Her Majesty Olga, of the Hellenes, Athens: I am inexpressibly shocked to hear of the terrible crime which has resulted in the death of the king and I offer to your majesty, to the royal family, and to the Grecian nation, the sincere condolences of the government and people of the United States and the expression of my own sympathy.
(Signed) "WOODROW WILSON,
"President of the United States of America."

Death at 5 O'clock

King George of Greece met his death at the hands of an assassin who shot him only once at five o'clock yesterday afternoon at Salonika, according to the latest confirmatory cablegram to the Greek legation here today.

LONDON, March 19.—Completely collapsed and confined to her bed at Marlborough house as the result of the slaying of her favorite brother, King George of Greece, Queen Mother Alexandra today said she would go to Athens to attend the funeral. Prince Arthur of Connaught, nephew of the dead monarch, has been designated to represent King George and Queen Mary of England at the funeral.

King George V, who received at Windsor Castle the news of his royal uncle's death, today was expected at Marlborough house to extend condolence to his mother.

The death of the Greek king will have a decidedly dampening effect on the London social season. The court, it was announced would immediately go into a month's mourning. Etiquette would demand that as a mark of respect and in addition, the British and Greek royal families are closely akin.

King George of Greece often had visited in London as the guest of his sister, Mother Alexandra, and those who knew him best today blamed his great abhorrence of display for his untimely end. So democratic was the late king that he went about without guards, against the pleadings of his family and advisers. When in London he mingled with the crowds in the streets and would not tolerate escorts or anything that, he said, would make him look like a king.

Turks Blame Bulgars

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 19.—The Turkish newspaper Janin this afternoon charges responsibility for the assassination of King George of Greece to the Bulgarians. The journal editorially pointed out that friction has long existed between the Greeks and Bulgarians over the divisions of Balkan spoils and King George personally was with his army, directing Greece's part in the war.

PARDON LIFER WHO STOLE BIT OF BACON

COLUMBUS, O., March 19.—William Welch, 35, the man who received a life sentence in the penitentiary for stealing a piece of bacon, is no longer a convict. Gov. Cox announced his pardon today. But the governor could not restore Welch's reason, which has fled after five years' behind the gloomy prison walls, and it is likely that the unfortunate man will have to spend the remainder of his days in the asylum. He pleaded guilty when caught with the bacon and Judge Allread sentenced him to a life term. Application for his pardon was signed by Judge Allread and the prosecuting attorney.

INDIAN VILLAGE IS ON SKYSCRAPER TOP

Blackfeet in New York for Show Get Necessary Altitude by Camping on Hotel Roof

NEW YORK, March 19.—As guests of Louis Hill, son of James J. Hill, the Great Northern railroad, a band of Indians from the Black Foot reservation in the Rockies, near Glacier National park, is snugly encamped today on the roof of one of New York's newest and tallest hotels. The Indians who had never been in a large city were brought here to form part of the exhibit at the coming Travel show. Rooms had been engaged for them but they balked at the idea of sleeping indoors.

"My people want air," Chief Three Bears explained. "Hot room no good. Want plenty outdoors."

The agile press agent of the hotel quickly arranged things to suit his savage guests. A tepee camp was built on the hotel roof in typical Inlian village formation and the spectacle is attracting wide attention. The Indians like the fresh air they get on top of the building, but not one of them can be induced to go near enough to the stone coping around the roof to get a peek at the city spread beneath them.

SPOTLIGHTS

The Cathedral at Milan

The world renowned white marble cathedral of Milan, adorned with nearly two thousand statues, contributes one of the many new features, of Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival which comes to the La Crosse Theater Saturday and Sunday, March 22 and 23, Sunday matinee. The especial glory of this wonderful structure is its architectural detaily. Its creation marked a new epoch in the history of architecture. Its splendid spires and pinnacles, and its silent statues form veritable symphony in stone which has survived the devastation of ages, wars and revolutions. There is no structure like it in the world. Other great cathedrals are grand, but none is as perfectly symmetrical as this. It is an unrivalled example of harmonious architecture and sculpture. Its delicately chiseled pinnacles of marble convey to the spectator's mind an overpowering sense of grace and beauty in stone. The series reveals the tracery and sculpture from many viewpoints and takes the audience through the topmost galleries, where the exquisite beauty of the windows and carved screens is noted at close range.

A thrilling escape from infuriated lions; building a New York skyscraper; dynamiting a mountain; a jaunt through Holland; a ride through the Simplon tunnel connecting Italy and Switzerland; another through the Niagara Gorge; a visit to La Granja, Spain, and to the famous military academy at Culver, Ind.; Paris fashions; jelly fish of the Mediterranean, and trapping monkeys are some of the features of the new program.

Wan, Weary and Worn Out

Don't Be Chained to the Hitching Post of Wearyland.

Half the people you meet complain of weary muscles, stagnant brain, jangled nerves, and a mournful desire to lay down and just quit. Most of these people have been using nervines that spasmodically flare up the nerves only to die down again, as die they must. Avoid nerve stimulants. Bear in mind that this worn out feeling is due to poor blood, to bacteria in the water you drink; to the multiplying of destructive germs in the blood faster than they can be overcome by the white corpuscles; and to what is known as auto-toxemia, that condition where the venous or impure blood accumulates faster than it can be replaced by the red arterial blood.

If you feel played out go to any drug store and ask for a bottle of S. S. S., Swift's Sure Specific. Here is a remedy that gets at work in a twinkling; it just naturally rushes right into your blood, scatters germs right and left, up and down and sideways.

You feel better at once, not from a stimulant, not from the action of drugs, but from the rational effect of a natural medicine just as active and just as timely as to a man who has been lost in the mountains, is about starved and comes across a settler just cooking a savory meal of good honest beef. Do not neglect to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. It will make you feel better in just a few minutes. It is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Send for their free book telling of the many strange conditions that afflict the human family by reason of impoverished blood.

WISCONSIN NEWS

OPPOSE CHANGING COMPENSATION ACT

MADISON, Wis., March 19.—Opposition developed to the Bingham bill yesterday proposing amendments to the workmen's compensation act. F. W. Walker, general manager of the Milwaukee Northern Railway company, Neal Brown of Wausau, Judge Paul Carpenter of Milwaukee, representing the Merchants and Manufacturers association spoke against any changes in the law until it had been given a further trial. Many of the more important features proposed were defended by Chairman Charles Crownhart of the Industrial commission and William Manthe of Fond du Lac. The amendment to do away with the defense of contributory negligence met with the greatest opposition.

The provision in favor of placing all employers under the compensation act unless they elect to stay out found in the Bingham bill and also in the Holmes bill was approved by Chairman Crownhart.

WOULD AMEND THE COMMISSION PLAN

MADISON, Wis., March 19.—A dozen bills amendatory of the commission government law were considered by the assembly committee on municipalities yesterday afternoon and an agreement was tentatively reached to combine them into one for the sake of comprehensiveness and clarity. It was agreed also to combine bills No. 358 by Mr. Gannon, No. 529, by I. N. Stewart, and No. 894 by Mr. Nye, with No. 762, introduced by Mr. Gannon, which provides for the election of a vice-mayor, acting mayor under the commission form of government. These will be considered this afternoon.

This bill will also provide that a majority of the councilmen shall have power to act on all matters. Under the old charter law a three-quarter vote was required, and it developed that in a council of three members, as in commission-governed cities, a unanimous vote was necessary. A two-thirds or majority vote, such as is wanted, gives such power to two of the three members.

MILWAUKEE VOTE AT PRIMARY LIGHT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 19.—While only a quarter of the total vote was cast at yesterday's primary and local socialists insisting that the balloting was not indicative of their strength in Milwaukee, local non-partisans were jubilant today over yesterday's showing. Dopesters were pointing to the vote for circuit judge as proof that the non-partisans are gaining strength. The combined vote of the "non-partisan" candidates was 20,167, while the socialist candidates polled 7,840. Leaders of the socialists in a statement today said that the fact that the socialist candidates were unopposed made their vote light.

HOLLANDERS ARE COMING TO STATE

MADISON, Wis., March 19.—Fourteen families of Hollanders, now in New York, will soon be en route to Wisconsin to make their home and become a nucleus about which it is expected will grow up a colony of sturdy Amsterdamers. They will settle in Bayfield county.

Immigration Commissioner Pocker was pleased with the news that the fourteen families had landed in New York and were ready to come to Wisconsin, for the fact marks a decisive victory over Canadian influences, which have persistently "knocked" northern Wisconsin.

BARABOO BREAKS ALL HIGH MARKS

BARABOO, Wis., March 19.—The Baraboo river has broken all records for high water, according to the figures covering sixty years. When one family awoke they found themselves entirely surrounded by water and fired a gun as a signal of distress. The neighbors came in boats to the rescue. Others found their horses and cattle standing in water up to their bodies.

DIFFER ON LABOR PERMITS

MADISON, Wis., March 19.—What policy to pursue with regard to the issuance of permits for child labor was the subject engrossing the assembly committee on education and the senate committee on education and public welfare at a joint hearing yesterday afternoon. Considerable opposition developed to Assemblyman Hurlbut's bill empowering several different officers in counties to issue permits to children between 14 and 16 years old. County and city school superintendents are given power by this bill to issue permits.

EAGLES OPEN AERIE

RACINE, Wis., March 19. — The formal dedication of the new clubhouse of Racine aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was held Monday night at the Hanson building, adjoining the city hall, on Main street. The new quarters, represents an outlay approximating $20,000 and will favorably compare with any in the northwest. The Racine aerie has a membership of 1,200.

ASK TOWN BALLOT

MADISON, Wis., March 19.—A movement for the adoption of a plan in Wisconsin for the use of an official ballot to be provided by town authorities at town and village elections, was started in the senate yesterday and there is little doubt that a bill making such provisions will pass the senate.

EATON CASE STILL DARK

NORWELL, Mass., March 19.—With the inquest being held at Hingham as the result of the death of Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, probably from poison, postponed until tomorrow, the case today was apparently as much of a mystery as it has been for the past ten days.

Great Umpiring

The umpire scouts overlooked this indicator man. The following is a sample of his work.

The Atlanta Deppens and the Birmingham Gold Dusts, colored baseball teams, were playing a strenuous game in Atlanta. In one inning the Gold Dusts had the bases full with no outs. An ebony-hued batter stepped to the plate. The pitcher sent the sphere to the catcher.

"One ball!" called the colored umpire.

Again the pitcher got busy.

'Two balls!" called the umpire.

"After the third ball pitched the man with the indicator shouted:

"Three balls!" Once more the sphere went across the plate.

"Fo' balls, yo' out!" shouted the umpire. The batter was highly indignant.

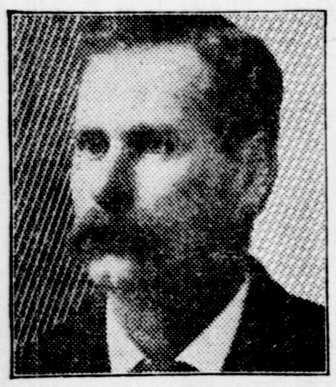

"What?" he yelled. "Me out? Whar yo' git dat, niggah?"

"Now, look a-hah, man," said the umpire, "yo' gotta be out. Day ain't no room fo' yo' on de bases."—Philadelphia Ledger.

CATARRH OF THE THROAT

Requires Prompt Treatment to Avoid Deafness

MR. DANIEL ROHRBACKER

Many diseases are caused by taking cold. A cold is very likely to settle in the nose, causing nasal catarrh. It may settle in the upper part of the throat, called the nasal pharyngeal space. In this space are two little tubes called eustachian tubes, that lead to the middle ear.

If the catarrh settles in the pharyngeal space it may follow the mucous membrane through the eustachian tubes into the middle ear. If it does it will cause noises in the ear, and later on be sure to cause deafness.

Catarrh of the throat may follow the eustachian tubes up into the middle ear without causing much concern on the part of the patient. The partial loss of hearing is apt to be overlooked. A person may lose half his hearing before he knows it.

For instance, suppose a man can hear his watch four feet from the ear. If he loses his hearing to the extent that he can only hear the tick of his watch two feet from his ear he may not suspect it at all. His hearing is good enough for ordinary purposes. He goes on without the slightest suspicion that he is losing his hearing. He may have ringing in the ear, or cracking and snapping sounds in the ear, or a feeling of pressure in the ear, but he is not aware that he is losing his hearing.

It is a good thing to test your hearing with a watch. First hold the watch against your ear, then move it gradually away from the ear and see how far away from the watch you can actually hear it tick. Try it on the other side and see if both ears are alike. If you find that you are unable to hear the watch on both sides alike and at a distance of four feet from the ear, you may know that deafness has already begun. You should begin taking Peruna at once. Gargle the throat with cold, strong salt water, as directed on page four of the "Ills of Life," sent free. Persist in this treatment until a cure is effected.

Sometimes catarrh of the nasal pharyngeal space will cause an accumulation of secretions in the throat that completely fill the space. Unless these secretions are promptly removed by frequent gargling polypi may be formed. Once formed the polypi or adenoids, as they are sometimes called, will require a long time with the gargling to remove. Gargling according to the proper method will even remove polypi or adenoids, and no surgical operation is required.

In order to understand exactly what is meant by proper gargling send for a free copy of the "Ills of Life."

During the whole course of gargling Peruna must be taken according to directions on the bottle.

Mr. Daniel Rohrbacker, R. R. 2, Castalia, Ohio, whose portrait appears above, writes: "I want to say a word for Peruna. I used it for catarrh of stomach, and it relieved me in a short time. The four or five bottles I used was worth more than all other remedies I ever used."

FIND MISSING MAN'S BODY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 19.—After having been missing from his home since January 29, the dead body of Ernst Seizer, 49 years old, a carpenter, was found in Strohman's woods, about a mile southwest of the city, Monday afternoon. The body was frozen hard.

Reminiscence Not Pleasing.

Once while canvassing his state during a political season, John Quincy Adams was approached by a well-to-do farmer, who introduced himself and said: "Mr. Adams, I'm glad to meet you; my wife remembers you well; she was in your family when you were a boy, and often combed your hair." "Well," said Mr. Adams, sharply, "I suppose she combs yours now."

Skin Peeling Nature's Aid to New Complexion

(From Woman's Tribune.)

Mercolized wax is a natural beautifier. By flaking off the devitalized surface skin, it merely hastens Nature's work. The second skin layer, brought gradually to view, exhibits the healthy, youthful color produced by capillary circulation. This because the capillaries are thus brought nearer the surface; also because the new skin is unsoiled by dust and dirt. This wax, to be had at any drugstore (an ounce will do) is put on nightly like cold cream, washed off mornings with warm water. Its work usually is completed in from seven to ten days, long enough not to show too marked results from day to day, or cause pain or detention indoors.

A face bath to remove wrinkles, made by dissolving an ounce of saxolite in a half pint witch hazel, is another natural beautifier, since its astringent and tonic effects smooth out the wrinkles in accordance with Nature's own process.

GOVERNOR WATCHES STRIKE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 19.—Gov. H. B. Hatfield announced today that he will spend much of his time in the martial law district until the miners' troubles are peaceably settled. His visit of yesterday to Cabin Creek district was to be followed today by a trip into Paint Creek Valley. The governor considers the strike situation serious.

No, Maude dear; you are slightly mixed. The clearing house is not where the speculators clean up the filthy lucre.

NINE FOOT DRIFT COVERS A HOUSE

PIERRE, S. D., March 19. — When the blizzard that raged here Friday and Saturday drifted snow to a depth of nine feet over the home of J. P. Greenwood, on a hillside, near De Gray, the telephone was not put out of commission, and Greenwood was able to call up neighbors for help. However before they were dug out several members of the family had become ill from a lack of pure air in the house.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, March 19.—The wheat market had a strong tone today. Reports of high winds and dust storms in Kansas, and bullish Liverpool cables drove options up slightly but at the 89 mark big commission houses were large sellers and the price for May reached its highest level at 89⅛c.

Crop reports, however, continue most favorable and with a slow flour trade, they maintain a bearish feeling on the local board.

Owing to the busy farm season, corn offerings continue light and both months advanced today. May was up ½c and July ⅜c over the day's opening at the noon hour.

Trading in oats was confined largely to shorts who were nervous over the advance in corn. The market was firm with options ranging from ⅛c to ⅜c higher.

Wheat advanced sharply in brisk trading in the afternoon and both months were active at the close, May ranging from ⅞ to 1c advance the day's opening.

The upward turn of which carried with it corn and oats and both grains closed strong.

Trading in provisions continued light with prices easier.

BINGLES FROM THE TRAINING CAMP

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 19.—Joe Boehling and "Tex" Gallia, two of "Fox" Griffiths rookies pitchers, are assured of places with the Nationals for a few weeks. They shut out the University of Virginia 6 to 0 yesterday afternoon. Walter Johnson was hammered for a 9 to 7 defeat by the scrubs.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 19.—Their defeat at the hands of the Yannigans yesterday did not shake the Red Sox confidence that they will take today's game from the Pittsburg Pirates, the second game in the series. Manager Stahl is anxious to even up the series.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 19.—The field was muddy today following a rather heavy rainfall last night and the Highlanders were forced to do light work and indoor practice during the morning. If conditions permitted, it was planned to get the Chance's crowd and the Jersey Skeeters of the International league together for a game this afternoon. Chance has almost recovered from his sprained ankle.

MARLIN, Texas, March 19. — It was a confident crew of Giants that took the train this morning for Waco. Before night they hoped to have another Texas league scalp hanging at their belts, not to mention plenty of mazuma to defray all traveling expenses. Today despite minor injuries and a few stiff muscles, the squad was in good shape.

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 19.—The Naps first spring men leave here today for New Orleans to begin a series of exhibition games.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 19.—Manager Evers found a water-soaked field when the Cubs, enroute to the north, after breaking training camp in Tampa stopped here today with the intention of edifying Jacksonville.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., March 19.—The White Sox and the Portland Coast leaguers, who started an exhibition at Visalia yesterday, came into town today to entertain local fans. The Sox nosed out a five to four win at Visalia after an exciting intermission. Ed Walsh had been billed to pitch and when he failed to take the slab the county sheriff ordered him to get busy on the "No show, no pay" argument. Walsh twirled the last inning.

OWENSBORO, Ky., March 19.—A blazing sun helped the Brewers on Tuesday and Clark's squad went through nine innings of snappy baseball, defeating the Yannigans, 5 to 3.

ALBANY, Ga., March 19.—The St. Louis Cardinals today were ready for the second game of the tour which is taking them toward home. The first game with the Albany (South Atlantic league) club resulted in the Cardinals' fall, 3 to 0.

MACON, Ga., March 19.—The St. Louis Browns today rushed through the early practice so as to take an afternoon off and witness the game here between the New York Giants and the local club.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 19.—Smoky Joe Wood faced the Pirates when the Red Sox lined up against Pittsburg for a second game of the series today.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 19.—Joe Tinker moved his Red brood here over night and after a day's practice will engage the Birmingham team in a long series. Cy Dahlgren, king of the minors, heralded as a new Rube Waddell, has joined the Reds but turns out to be a level-headed chap who went to the outlaws only because the salary offered him last year was not to his liking.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 19.—Pitcher Boehler was practically certain of a permanent berth with the Tigers today, due to his work in yesterday's game wtih the Pelicans. Boehler worked six innings, allowing only two hits. He was replaced by Clauss, who went to pieces in the ninth inning. The Pelicans took the game in extra innings, 4 to 3.

Meanwhile, in a weird contest at Baton Rouge the second team defeated the Louisiana university by a score of 17 to 0.

SPRING FOOTBALL IS SEILER'S IDEA

Men Who Will Try for the Team in Fall to Be Put Through Strenuous Vernal Grind

Coach Otto Seiler of the high school called a meeting of all men interested in football to get them interested in the spring football training. It is new in the local high school.

The advantages of spring football training have been realized by all the coaches of colleges in the development of their teams. It acquaints the men with the rudimentary football, thus giving more time to the development of plays in the regular season. Plays can be learned during the spring training and polished during the fall season. Furthermore it keeps the football men in proper trim all the year through, an important factor in a successful team.

All the football men who played on last season's team and all the men who are planning to get out for next fall's team have signified their intention of taking advantage of the spring training and a squad of about forty men will be out every day after the spring vacation which begins on Thursday of this week and lasts until the following Thursday.

ROW OVER GIRL FATAL TO TWO

JULESBURG, Col., March 19. — As the result of a quarrel over attentions to Miss Bessie Hileman, S. S. Stephenson and J. B. Atkins are dead here today. Stephenson, a restauranteur, was slain by Atkins, member of a wealthy Huntington, W. Va., family, who immediately committed suicide. Atkins met Stephenson on the street and accused him of "knocking" Miss Hileman. Without further parley, Atkins shot Stephenson. As the latter fell dead and before bystanders could interfere, Atkins shot himself through the head.

JANESVILLE HIGHS CHAMPION TALKERS

BELOIT, Wis., March 19.—The Janesville high school debating team won the state league championship Tuesday afternoon in a contest held in this city under the auspices of Beloit college. The Racine high school appeared on the negative side of the question, "Resolved, that in the interests of international peace, the United tSates should decrease its proportionate war expense." Janesville, on the affirmative, won.

Wonders of English.

The following letter from a native of India to a missionary gives proof of the surprising possibilities of the English language: "Dear She: My wife has returned from your hospital cured. Provided males are allowed at your bungalow I would like to do you the honor of presenting myself there this afternoon. But I will not try to repay you; vengeance belongeth unto God."

Does Electrocution Kill?

Does electrocution really kill? Or does it only render unconscious—the patient dying, in point of fact, upon the operating table, during the autopsy? There are able physicians who contend that such is the case. Again, others say that it is not.—Popular Electricity.

"Willie, why couldn't you find the result of these examples you took home?" inquired the teacher, in a sharp voice. "Please, ma'am," replied the shaking boy, "me father says they wuz too hard for him, an' would you mind giving me a few easier ones to do?"—Woman's Home Companion.

DIES RATHER THAN DESERT CHILDREN

CHICAGO, March 19.—Verie Pustalla, a young Italian woman, chose to die rather than to desert her children, and kneeling in the center of a furnace of flame early today was burned to death.

When the ruins were searched two hours later, the bodies of the three victims were discovered. The mother was still in a kneeling position. Evidently she had died in prayer. The two little children, Jane, aged 5, and May, aged 3, died at their mother's skirts.
